

Advanced Periodontics & Oral Surgery

This comprehensive, two-day laser course for advanced laser users demonstrates the most widely used laser wavelengths in dentistry today, and includes standardized approaches to advanced Waterlase periodontal and oral surgery applications. Day one will have a heavy focus on the procedures with the Diode laser which is offered to both doctors and hygienists. Day two will be strictly for doctors and focus on the applications for the iPlus of periodontics and oral surgery.

Clinical cases will be presented in slides and videos. In addition, there will HANDS-ON EXERCISES. Each participant will have an opportunity to perform some of the procedures on bovine jaw tissue with over-the-shoulder tutoring. In addition, insurance codes and post-treatment care will be presented.